

Contact: Michelle Samuels
917-975-1280
msamuels@jaffepr.com

Kleinberg Kaplan Names Two New Members

NEW YORK, NY (January 24, 2012) –Kleinberg, Kaplan, Wolff & Cohen, P.C. announced that Kelly E. Zelezen and Euchung Ung have been named members of the firm, effective January 1, 2012.

“Kelly and Euchung are tremendous assets to our firm and our clients,” said Andy Chonoles, Kleinberg Kaplan’s managing partner. “Their dedication to the practice of law and to delivering exceptional results reflects the firm’s commitment to cultivating our attorneys’ talents to provide the highest-quality service to our clients.”

Kelly Zelezen joined the firm in 2006 and concentrates her practice on the asset management industry, where she advises managers of hedge funds, private equity funds and separately managed accounts. She counsels private investment funds on all aspects of their formation and ongoing operations including structuring, marketing materials, “market” terms, seed deals and side letters with investors, agreements with service providers and. Her practice also includes compliance matters, assisting SEC registered advisers with preparing Form ADVs and establishing compliance programs. Additionally, Zelezen regularly advises clients on management company agreements, succession planning, executive compensation and employment matters as well as general corporate matters. Kelly received a B.A., cum laude, from Washington & Lee University, and a J.D. from Rutgers School of Law – Newark, where she was a research editor for Rutgers Law Review and a member of Order of the Coif. She is a resident of Manhattan.

Euchung Ung joined the firm in 2008, and practices in the firm’s real estate group. Ung advises real estate investors, owners and lenders on transactions involving the acquisition, disposition, development, management, and leasing of office, retail, commercial and hotel properties nationwide. He also has a strong practice in real estate finance, providing counsel to clients on partnership and joint venture transactions (including real estate fund formation), and negotiating deals involving mortgage, bond and mezzanine debt financing arrangements, intercreditor agreements, and complex workout arrangements. Euchung holds an LL.B, with honors, from University of London (UK), an LL.M. in International Trade and Business Law from Fordham University, where he was a graduate research fellow, and a J.D. from Georgetown University. He is a resident of Greenwich, Connecticut where he has served as a board member of the Chinese Language School of Fairfield County since 2005.

Kleinberg, Kaplan, Wolff & Cohen, P.C. is a leading New York law firm representing clients in transactional, regulatory, trusts and estates, tax, real estate, litigation and securities matters. Nationally recognized for its representation of private investment funds, the firm also acts as legal counsel to a number of financial institutions and privately held businesses. For more information, please visit www.kkwc.com.

###